

The Broken Myths of Child Erotica

1. Child erotica is sick and repulsive

That is a subjective opinion that can only come from a small minded person or Government unable to accept different points of view.

2. Child erotica harms kids

A photograph of a naked body is still that, nothing else than what a human being, in this case a child, looks like.

Banning of child erotica only protects the minds of adults whom are unable to cope with the fact that someone may in his inner thoughts like child eroticism.

3. Child erotica leads to child rape

If that is the case then adult erotica leads to women's rape and gay erotica leads to gay rape.

4. Child erotica consumers are monsters

That a is lie constantly repeated by intolerant fanatics in order to justify the persecution of people with child erotica thoughts.

5. If we ban child erotica it will disappear for ever

With the outlawing of child eroticism images, the business is driven underground without any checks or regulations and places the kids at risk of sex abuse, all thanks to the Government.

Note that child erotica magazines with pictures of nude preteen girls were legally being sold in Japan until 1999. Nozomi Kurahashi and Rika Nishimura being two of the most famous lolita girls posing nude for magazines sold at sex shops. They started to do nude child modelling aged nine years old right until they were in their late twenties.

Child abuse was never mentioned by any of these girls or their parents, only the bigots persecuting the child erotica minority mentioned it.
